ORDER OF DETENTION PENDING TRIAL

In accordance with the Bail Reform Act, 18 U.S.C. § 3142(f), a detention hearing has been held. I conclude that the following facts are established by a preponderance of the evidence and require the detention of the above-named defendant pending trial in this case.

[] (3) A period of not more than five years has elapsed since the (date of conviction) (release of the defendant from imprisonment) for the offense described in finding 1.

Written Statement of Reasons for Detention

I find that the accusations in the indictment and the information provided in the pretrial services report and at the detention hearing establish by a preponderance of the evidence that no condition or combination of conditions will reasonably assure the appearance of the defendant as required.

I conclude that the following factors specified in 18 U.S.C. § 3142(g) are present and are to be taken into account:

1. Defendant is a naturalized U.S. citizen who lived in the United States from 1978 until 1998 when he returned to Israel. His wife and four children are U.S. citizens but live in Israel. His parents and siblings also live in Israel. He has been unemployed for 5 years. He has no family or financial ties to the United States and no residence here.
2. Defendant's criminal history includes a conviction for forgery and charges of attempted grand theft, possession of an ID to commit forgery, and receiving stolen property.
3. Defendant has been charged with bank fraud and wire fraud in violation of 18 U.S.C. §§ 371 and 1344. The charges against Defendant have a potential penalty of up to 30 years in prison. Evidence presented at the hearing indicates that defendant was the organizer and leader of a credit card fraud scheme causing approximately $10 million in losses.
4. There is no condition or combination of conditions of release which would assure the appearance of the defendant in court. Detention is ordered.

Directions Regarding Detention

It is therefore ORDERED that the defendant is committed to the custody of the Attorney General or his designated representative for confinement in a corrections facility separate, to the extent practicable, from persons awaiting or serving sentences or being held in custody pending appeal. The defendant shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity for private consultation with defense counsel. On order of a court of the United States or on request of an attorney for the Government, the person in charge of the corrections facility shall deliver the defendant to the United States Marshal for the purpose of an appearance in connection with all court proceedings.
